Hello,

The maintenance guys mentioned yesterday that the plumber might come by today to check out the leak coming from our toilet. But today isn't a good day because I need to sleep (worked last night) and have some appointments in the afternoon. Friday is much better. Let me know when they are able to come by.

Also, just wanted you to know that several pipes were leaking down in the garage area this morning. A pipe was leaking above my parking spot as well as some others.

Thanks,
Veronica

Hi Veronica!

I'll ask my assistant to call the plumbers and schedule repairs for tomorrow instead of today so that you can get some rest=)

The main line is clogged causing the pipe leaks in the carports, if the plumbers haven't already been there they should be soon and will get it resolved.

I'll let you know what time they'll be there tomorrow, is there a timeframe that works best for you?

Thank you so much for your understanding!

As for tomorrow, I thought my husband was going to be home, but his trip got extended through Friday night. I have a doctors appointment at 10 am so anytime after 12 pm works. Let me know what time they are able to come over. Thanks!
